

Workshop Series (Registration recommended, not required)

Free workshops: open to all faculty, staff, students and community members
50-minute workshops start at 11:30am in LIB 272 (near 2nd floor water fountain)

- February 20: Historical Newspapers
- March 3: Scholarly Publishing & Open Access
- March 26: Introduction to NVivo
- April 7: Sanborn Maps

More information and workshop descriptions at dsi.mtsu.edu/workshopsSP2020

Digital Seed Grant (faculty/researchers/graduate students)

Up to $2,000 to awarded projects. Details on the website: dsi.mtsu.edu/dsgrant.
Applications due on April 10, 2020. Projects run July 1-June 30.

Digital and Open Publishing (faculty/staff/students)

Submit items to JEWLScholar, an open access archive that preserves and indexes your scholarly materials. Acceptable content include theses, dissertations, published articles, department newsletters, conference proceedings, open textbooks or teaching materials.

Journals@MTSU enables open access publications created by MTSU affiliates to be freely accessible with Open Journal Systems software. A publishing program hosted by Walker Library and with publications indexed by Worldcat, DOAJ, databases, and search engines.

Journal Editors

Use

OJS to manage the manuscript submission and peer review process

DSI @Library

Provides

Journal hosting platform, stable access, and technical support

Authors/Readers

Access / Discover

Journal instructions and publications without any costs